DEDICATION

It is impossible in a few words to express the gratitude that we, the Class of 1961, feel toward you. For it is you who have been with us since the beginning of our high school career; helping us, guiding us, and inspiring us. You, more than anyone, have truly prepared us to be the "Lighters of the Lamp." For these reasons, we, the Class of 1961, are honored to be able to express our most heartfelt thanks through this dedication of our yearbook to you, DR. WALLACE JOHNSON.

Dear Students:

It is a pleasure for me to be able to write a few notes for the yearbook, wherein I might again restate a few words of advice to the readers of this book. You have heard me tell you of the admonition made by the famous World War I general, John J. Pershing, in which he stated:

"The Good Lord gave us two ends to use;
One to think with, and one to sit with.
Your success depends upon which you use--
Heads you win--tails you lose."

I believe this is true and appropriate. Too many of our pupils fail to take advantage of the numerous opportunities which are available. In other words, a large number of you "fail to see the Light." Some of you have read, or heard, the biblical quotation, "Ye, the 'Lighters of the Lamp', walk while ye have the light, lest the darkness come upon you." This may be interpreted as meaning that we are placed upon this earth for a limited time and, consequently should make use of the "Light" while we can, before it is withdrawn.

I believe that when enough people throughout the world "see the Light", ignorance and fear may be eliminated and our world will become a better place in which to live.

In conclusion, I hope that each of you will take advantage of the "Light" and make the greatest possible use of it in the limited time that is at your disposal.

May I wish you, especially the seniors, the blessings of a happy and successful future.

Most sincerely yours,

Daniel W. Alvino

JUNIOR-SENIOR TEA

Left-2-3-Right-2-3 . . .

In June of 1960, the class of 1961 was proud host to the class of 1960 at the annual Junior-Senior Tea. The traditional event commenced with a welcome by our President, Judith Labrie, and continued well into the evening with music and dancing. Terminating a long and happy association with the 1960'ers, the Junior-Senior Tea was an event long to remember.

"Coffee, tea, or milk?"

Class Presidents, Judith Labrie and Thomas Clapp, cut the cake.

This makes it worth graduating.

FRESHMAN RECEPTION

"At least it's better than walking . . . so they say."

"Ma, he's making eyes at me!!!"

"Who said there's a wheat surplus."

HISTORY

In September of 1957, the Seniors held the traditional Freshman Reception at which they tried to prove that even Seniors are human. As soon as we had managed to stop wandering into the wrong classrooms, we settled down for our first year in high school. We decided to go to Whalom Park on our class trip. With this event, our class ended the beginning of our four years at Grafton High, and we were looking forward to the next year—to the title of "Sophomores."

Our Sophomore year found us well in the swing of things. With Judy Labrie as our efficient president, class affairs ran smoothly. In December, the class dance conducted under the capable leadership of Barbara Matuzek, was a success. But even this delightful occurrence was outshone by the first annual Carnival Ball held January twenty-fourth.

In early April, the financial condition of the class was greatly improved by a carwash held in three parts of town. Everyone in the class took part, and soapy sponges became the order of the day.

The class trip, an ideal climax to the too fastfleeting year, came on June thirteenth. This afforded an excellent background to a full, fascinating year which was soon to be lost when we became Juniors.

After two years of toil, we had to prepare ourselves for the everlasting challenges we would encounter. Our able leader, Judy Labrie was elected for the third consecutive year. Under her guidance we organized several money-making projects. Among these were a dance called "Teen Beat" held on October 2, 1959, and a drive to sell stationery.

However, we did accomplish things other than those bent on making money. As Christmas approached, we were all excited about the arrival of our beautiful but expensive class rings. Under the guidance of Barbara Matuzek and Dave Fleming the prom finally materialized on May 27, 1960. On that night, which we had all so eagerly awaited, we drifted to the golden tones of Al Hakey and his band and dreamed of our beautiful queen Pat Wood and her court.

The final event of this illustrious year was the Junior-Senior Tea. It made us realize that soon we ourselves would be Seniors.

The Senior year was one of mixed emotions. There was the financial panic caused by the expenses of the Yearbook, Class Night, the Senior Ball, the Class Trip and many other things. To solve this problem, we held food sales, sold candy, held dances and car washes, and collected back dues.

Everyone, in addition, also experienced the fear of not graduating, the jitters about acceptance at "the college of your choice," the boredom of the last year, and the mixed joy and sadness of the last few days of this the last year at good old G.H.S.

These are the things that have made us a class. Let us hope that these same things will keep us together always as the graduating class of 1961 at Grafton High.

PROPHECY

As we pass through the gates of the great World's Fair, our first sight is a radio station and a press box. In the press box, we see Charles Glodas, popular disc-jockey, spinning the platters while famous sports announcer, William Hoyle, talks to the equally famous baseball star, Jim Ritchie.

Upon entering the U. S. section, our eyes view the secretarial exhibit. In this exhibit, we see a force of secretaries including: Lorraine Lavallee, Carole Gemma, Elaine Brousseau, Marion Babowitch, Gyneth Waters, Judy Ciccone, Patricia Theriault, Dolores Breault, Joanne Messina, Sandra Little, Sandra Liberis, Mary Jane Thomas, Eleanor Boyle, Phyllis Stone, Gloria St. Pierre, and head book-keeper, Carol Mis.

In the art building, illustrating what is new in the commercial art field, is Bob Wahlgren. With him are other leaders in the world of Art, William Lukas and Marsha Ryngiewicz.

Further down the avenue of exhibits, we are hypnotized by two of America's greatest salesmen, Bob Hamilton and Vincent Dauphinais; Ann Meany, a merchandising expert; law enforcer Norman Sarkisian; internationally famous lawyer, Bruce Langdon and social worker Barbara Matuzek. Directly behind them are some of America's greatest educators demonstrating new methods in teaching. They include: Joanne Ford, Suzanne Holland, Philip Bjorndal, Marilyn Rouleau, Bob Crepeau, and Kevin Kennedy.

Strolling near livestock exhibits, we see skilled farmers in the persons of William Jones, Hal Merrick, and Tom Frederico. Closely associated with them is forestry agent Mike Hebert. Milling among the spectators at these exhibits we find our handsome nation's defenders: Dick Erenius, Russell Fuller, Roy Gaudette, Andrew Hubbard, Roger Williams, William Clapp, Thomas Wharton, Bruce Nicholas, Francis Carelli, and David Brueggemann.

All the service men are gazing at the pretty airline hostesses that include Barbara DiCarlucci, Jackie Hannon, and Sue Williams. Every hostess is in turn looking at the daringly romantic pilot Dave Fleming. Keeping the pilots in the air is left to Al Cardoza, airplane mechanic, and Dave Cross and Ed Doane, the aircraft technicians.

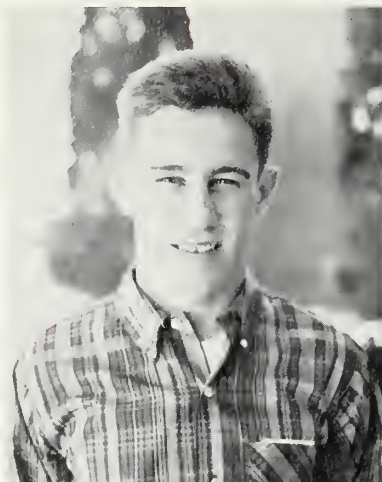

In an exhibit reviewing the advancement of medical knowledge we find Doctor Raymond Wahlgren; surgical technician, Judy Labrie; nurses, Pat Wood and Carole Huchowski; dentists, Dick Greenfield and Peter Waterfield; occupational therapist, Sue Putnam; and physical education teacher, Mercie Wetherbee.

In the U. S. exhibit, built and planned by architects Mary Pfau and David Adams and chief engineer Bob Morin, we find the machines of the space-age which Jerry Girouard and Bob Benoit designed. As we stroll through the U. S. exhibits we can't help but notice the beautiful landscaping done jointly by head landscaper Wayne Clark and construction boss, Wayne Page. In charge of all the buildings in the U. S. exhibit are Dennis Flynn and Stephen Bergquist, the famous industrialists of the 20th Century.

As the sun sets on this World's Fair tour, we view with pride the accomplishments of our fellow classmates as evidenced here. However, even though they have all gone through life separately they always remain the graduating class of 1961 of Grafton High School.

Juniors, the past three years we spent with you have been pleasurable ones. You have shared with us many hardships but there always has been the sense of accomplishment to spur us on. It is a comfort to us to know that such a capable class as yours will replace us and carry on the proud tradition of Grafton High School. We firmly believe that you will work hard in your final year, the year of decision, to light the way towards a glorious future.

Thus it is with a heavy heart that we bid you farewell, wishing you the best of luck in all you attempt.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

President: David Moore
Vice-President: Douglas Lowe
Secretary: Bonnie Nason
Treasurer: Joanne Najemy

Having passed the halfway mark in high school life, you, as Sophomores, find yourselves adjusted to the routine and aware of the responsibilities awaiting you.

Although the initial difficulties encountered as newcomers have been surmounted, and although the best may be yet to come, we ask that you not relax your efforts, but rather, that in striving for yet higher goals you bring honor to yourselves and the tradition you represent.

FRESHMAN CLASS

We, the Senior Class, are now completing the last days of our high school life. It is only natural that we look back on our high school record only to tell ourselves that scholastically we could have done much better. Yes, of course it was difficult coming up from the lower grades to be faced with more studies. The decision, however, to face up to our duties was left to us, as it is left up to each one of you.

It is you, who following in our footsteps, will bring Grafton High School to new, glorious, and rewarding victories. We wish you with all sincerity the very best in the years to come.

SCHOOL MEMORIES

Class of 1961

The cool fresh Autumn air—"Push 'em back, push 'em back—oh, come on, push 'em back!!"—the excitement of our hard earned touchdowns—"Well, it's only their second year . . . you can't win them all anyway; just wait until basketball season . . ."

P.O.D. class—TIGER—"Which side of the scale—liberty or order?"—"Of course Mr. Nixon has his good points but . . ."—"Well KIDDOS, it's the New York Times again . . ."—"Those are some of the causes, but what is the problem?"—"Our friends in the kitchen—"You know, the menu isn't their fault . . ."

Memories . . .

The lunch lines—"Why, why, why . . ."—"He who cutteth the line goeth to the end"—"Cheer up, kids, tomorrow is another day"—"You know, Mrs. Brown won't give me a quarter . . . yishh"—Friday dancing—loud—fast—???—3 minutes to the bell—"Where the boys aren't"—"Well, at least it clears the cafeteria . . ."

Sweet Mrs. Brown—the guardian of keys and petty cash—she's always willing to help above and beyond the call of duty—"Just one announcement at this time."—"Do you have a slip from home? . . ."

Assemblies

Over the years we have seen many different assemblies—from lectures on wildlife, space travel, and discipline to observances of Memorial Day, Easter, Thanksgiving, 4th of July, and the establishment of our football team. We have also seen awards assemblies, talent shows, and political rallies.

One of the most impressive assemblies is the installation of National Honor Society members. Next to graduation this is the most important event in the life of the school.

School Play

"The name of this play is 'Our Town'."
It was written by Thornton Wilder and tonight . . . etc., etc."

The main characters of
"Our Town" are, l. to r.:
George Gibbs—D. Lowe
Dr. Gibbs—R. Benoit
Mrs. Gibbs—M. Knowlton
Mrs. Webb—G. Soderberg
Emily Webb—L. Marean
Mr. Webb—S. Bergquist
Stage Manager—B. Langdon

Carnival Ball

January 21, 1961

CARNIVAL BALL COURT, left to right: Joanne Messina, Nancy Wood, Bonnie Nason, Mary Leofanti, QUEEN Susan Holland, Donna Peterson, Marijean Caldwell, Bette Toman.

Faculty Game

January 27, 1961

The game afforded all present to see that even the teachers are human. . . . The varsity romped over the teachers because of the students' age advantage . . . they ran the teachers ragged. Never-the-less, the teachers had the last laugh on Monday.
